Back to School

Now through Saturday, August 7th, stop by Shopko and check out their efforts to collect donated school supplies!

Every little bit helps!

Class is about to be back in session! Be on the lookout for kids walking to school and remember to observe all safety rules around busses. Parents should consider resuming their school night routine a few days early in order to ease the transition, and always allow extra time in the morning to avoid the last minute rush.

New Chamber of Commerce Executive Director

Hello Everyone,

My name is Jessica Lechner and I am the new Executive Director for the Chamber of Commerce. Some of you may know me from my time with the Board of Public Works here in town. Prior to that, I worked at St. Mary's Community Hospital and as a Licensed Physical Therapist Assistant in my hometown.

I am originally from the southeast corner of Alabama, but have lived here with my family for almost 5 years.

My husband works at Cooper, and we have one daughter and two dogs. In my spare time, I enjoy reading, traveling, watching Auburn University football, & spending time with my family & friends.

I am in the process of learning everything that I can about my new role with the Chamber, and have been trying to meet most of the Members around town. My hope is to be settled in before we get to Spookfest.

I look forward to getting to know you all and working with you on our upcoming projects. Please feel free to call or stop by the office anytime.

Coffee & Conversation in Auburn

Losing a spouse or loved one often results in a pain that can only best be understood by others who have also experienced such a loss. While each person must find their own way through the grief, support groups can offer friendship and understanding to individuals during a challenging time.

A support group for individuals who have lost a spouse or loved one, facilitated by Geri Hepp, AseraCare Bereavement Coordinator, offers both educational material and discussion about normal and healthy grieving, coping skills and allows for natural connections and sharing.

Meetings will be held the 3rd Wednesday of the month in 2015.

Refreshments will be provided.
